JG Afrika has welcomed Kobus Burger as a technical director in the firm

Kobus Burger appointed a technical director of JG Afrika

Kobus Burger, manager of the structural design division of JG Afrika's Pietermaritzburg office in KwaZulu-Natal, has been appointed as a technical director of JG Afrika, a leading multi-disciplinary engineering and environmental consultancy.

With a total of 31 years of experience, Burger's list of achievements includes his involvement in numerous projects throughout southern Africa designing a variety of reinforced and pre-stressed concrete bridges and temporary works for incrementally-launched bridges.

A SANRAL registered senior bridge inspector, his expertise is highly sought-after for other specialised complex technical undertakings, such as participating in forensic structural investigations.

Members of JG Afrika's board, including Paul Olivier, managing director, congratulate Burger on his recent accomplishment at the firm, and know that his technical expertise and experience will enhance JG Afrika's existing standing as a leading African engineering solutions provider.
